

NAVIGATING
MARKET VOLATILITY:
IT'S ALL ABOUT PERSPECTIVE

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- ✓ After 10+ years of growth, volatility jolted investors back to the harsh reality that market pullbacks happen regularly in the investing cycle.
- ✓ The U.S. stock market has endured many challenging events since 1980 — and has averaged double-digit annual returns despite these challenges.
- ✓ Panic-driven selling may alleviate short-term fear of loss, but investors may also miss out on the market's strongest days and reduce their long-term returns.

A hand holding a pen over a document with charts and a smartphone in the background. The entire image has a blue tint. The background shows a wooden desk with a smartphone, a cup, and a hand holding a pen over a document with charts.

OUR PAST INFORMS OUR PRESENT

Fact: Market volatility makes investors nervous. Logically, we know markets go both up and down, and reaping the rewards of investing comes with a degree of risk. That's easy to remember in times of growth, but it's much harder when market volatility arrives and we feel compelled to take action based on emotions, not logic.

We've experienced many tumultuous events in the past 40 years, including 1987's Black Monday stock market crash, the terrorist attacks of 9/11 and the 2008-09 global financial crisis. Historians will certainly add the COVID-19 pandemic of 2020 to the list of remarkable events that have caused severe market volatility and prolonged periods of uncertainty.

All of these events had varying effects on our economy as well as our daily lives. What they share in common, however, is that we've always come through them. They hurt while they were happening, and it took longer to recover from some than others, but our market – and our economy – has always come back stronger and better than ever before.

Markets, like people, do not like uncertainty. We cannot predict when market volatility will occur or exactly how long it will last. What we can do is look at history to remind us that we've always come through it before, and we will come through it again.

HISTORY LESSONS

The decadelong bull market of the 2010s eased the pain that many investors felt in the 2008-09 financial crisis. Reality came crashing back in early 2020, as COVID-19 spread globally and markets plummeted in response.

The downturn left investors searching for reassurance that everything will eventually be OK. Fortunately, that reassurance is easy to find: A quick glance at the history of the U.S. stock market provides us with three reminders about the true nature of volatility.

1. VOLATILITY IS NOT NEW.

Between 1950 and 2020, we have experienced 36 market corrections (a market pullback of 10% to 20%), or an average of one every other year or so.<sup>1</sup>

But here's the good news: three-quarters of the market corrections from the last 50 years never turned into serious bear markets. Most were short-lived, lasting three months or less.<sup>2</sup>

The takeaway here is that markets have recovered following a correction before – and they will do so again. Some may take longer than others, but history shows us that it's taken an average of four months to recover from prior corrections.<sup>3</sup>

2. MARKETS HAVE WEATHERED NUMEROUS CRISES IN THE PAST.

The coronavirus outbreak in 2020 is unprecedented in its global reach and effect on both human life and economies. However, markets – like people – are resilient and often come back from adverse events with renewed optimism. Consider some of the events affecting the U.S. stock market over the past 40 years:

- Oct. 19, 1987 – The stock market crashes on “Black Monday.”
- 1990-91 – Iraq invades Kuwait, eventually leading to U.S. involvement.
- 2000 – The tech bubble bursts.
- Sept. 11, 2001 – Terrorists attack the World Trade Center and various sites on U.S. soil.
- March 20, 2003 – The U.S. leads an invasion into Iraq to start the Iraq War.
- 2008-09 – A global financial crisis hits hard for individuals and businesses.
- 2018 – A trade war begins between the U.S. and China.

3. TIMING THE MARKET DOES NOT WORK. TIME IN THE MARKET DOES.

The adage of “buy low, sell high” often leads investors to think they can “time” the market. But it’s nearly impossible to anticipate precisely when investments are at their highest high or lowest low. You might be able to achieve it once, but the odds of replicating such success are incredibly slim.

Instead, the more prudent approach is to put time to work for you. Investors who try to avoid volatility by timing the market may miss out on the worst days, but they also may miss out on the best ones. Check out this illustration, showing what happens when an investor misses the market’s best days:

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU MISS THE MARKET'S BEST DAYS<sup>4</sup>

GROWTH OF $10,000 INVESTED JAN. 1, 1980

Source: FMRCo, Asset Allocation Research Team, as of Jan. 1, 2019. The hypothetical example assumes an investment that tracks the returns of the S&P 500® Index and includes dividend reinvestment but does not reflect the impact of taxes, which would lower these figures. There is volatility in the market, and a sale at any point in time could result in a gain or loss. Your own investing experience will differ, including the possibility of loss. You cannot invest directly in an index.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. This is provided for informational purposes and does not serve as the basis for individual financial decisions.

LEARNING FROM THE PAST

We can use this historical perspective to guide our next steps as we wait out market volatility. Here's what we recommend:

- ✓ REBALANCE. Check in with your financial professional to make sure your portfolio is diversified and balanced to fit your goals and risk tolerance.
- ✓ REFOCUS. It's easy to get distracted from long-term goals when the short-term news is frightening. But opportunity does exist – even when markets are volatile. Work with your financial professional to determine planning opportunities that may be available and beneficial for your future.
- ✓ REAFFIRM. You chose and established your long-term goals for a reason. Do they still work for you? Does your financial plan still match and move you toward those goals? Your financial professional can help you review and adapt your financial plan to make sure it still works for your life.

QUESTIONS ABOUT MARKET VOLATILITY?

WE'RE HERE TO HELP.

If you're concerned about market volatility and how it's affected your financial future, contact us for a complimentary consultation. We can help you devise a strategy to navigate uncertainty in the markets and make sure you're still on track to realize your retirement goals.

---

<sup>1</sup> Ben Carlson. A Wealth of Common Sense. Feb. 14, 2021. "A Short History of U.S. Stock Market Corrections & Bear Markets." <https://awealthofcommonsense.com/2021/02/a-short-history-of-u-s-stock-market-corrections-bear-markets/>. Accessed Oct. 29, 2021.

<sup>2</sup> John Bromels. The Motley Fool. Oct. 4, 2021. "What Are Stock Market Corrections?" <https://www.fool.com/investing/how-to-invest/stocks/stock-market-corrections/>. Accessed Oct. 29, 2021.

<sup>3</sup> Thomas Franck. CNBC. Feb. 27, 2020. "Here's how long stock market corrections last and how bad they can get." <https://www.cnbc.com/2020/02/27/heres-how-long-stock-market-corrections-last-and-how-bad-they-can-get.html>. Accessed Oct. 29, 2021.

<sup>4</sup> Fidelity Investments. "Navigating the Markets." https://institutional.fidelity.com/app/item/RD\_13569\_23965.html. Accessed Oct. 29, 2021.

LIBERTY GROUP

Liberty Group, Holdings, Inc. operates the following range of businesses through controlled entities, collectively referred to as Liberty Group (or "LG"): Hollander & Hollander, PC ("H&H"), Liberty Alternative Asset Management, LLC ("LAAM"), Liberty Real Estate Management Company, LLC ("LREM"), Liberty Tax Planners, LLC ("LTP"), Liberty Wealth Management, LLC ("LWM"), DBA Liberty Group, and Lifetime Planning Marketing, Inc. ("LPM"), CA # 0F17020. Persons engaging the services of one affiliated LG company should be aware that each company is operated separately. Engaging the services of one entity does not entitle any client to the rights and protections of another, some of whom are regulated entities subject to different governing regimes. Clients should be aware that services provided by one regulated entity will only be provided concerning that entity, not for another. Further, the protections afforded when doing business with one affiliated entity may not necessarily exist with another.

Investment advisory services are offered through Liberty Wealth Management, LLC, DBA Liberty Group, an SEC-registered investment adviser. Persons engaging the services of one affiliated LG company should be aware that each company is operated separately. Engaging the services of one entity does not entitle any client to the rights and protections, some of whom are regulated entities subject to different governing regimes. Clients should be aware that services provided by one regulated entity will only be provided concerning that entity - the protections afforded when doing business with one affiliated entity may not necessarily exist with another. The opinions expressed and material provided are general information and should not be considered a solicitation for purchasing or selling any security. Nothing presented is intended to provide specific legal or tax advice. Financial and planning decisions must be based on your specific due diligence, investment objectives, economic, risk tolerance, and individual financial and personal circumstances. Past performance is no indication of future results, and investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. No investment strategy can guarantee a profit or protect against loss in periods of declining value. Before investing, you should consult with a qualified professional - a competent financial, legal, or tax advisor, or another, to aid in due diligence as proper for your situation to determine the suitability of the risk and tax consequences associated with any investment. For additional information on LG, its related companies, or LWM and any of its affiliated persons who are registered or required to be registered as Adviser Representatives of the firm, please visit www.adviserinfo.sec.gov or contact us directly at 411 30th Street, 2nd Floor, Oakland, CA 94609, T: 510-658-1880, F: 510-658-1886. www.libertygroupllc.com.

Certain information contained herein has been obtained from third party sources and such information has not been independently verified by Liberty Group. No representation, warranty, or undertaking, expressed or implied, is given to the accuracy or completeness of such information by Liberty Group or any other person. While such sources are believed to be reliable, Liberty Group does not assume any responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of such information. Liberty Group does not undertake any obligation to update the information contained herein as of any future date.

Except where otherwise indicated, the information contained in this presentation is based on matters as they exist as of the date of preparation of such material and not as of the date of distribution or any future date. Recipients should not rely on this material in making any future investment decision.

Any references to protection or lifetime income generally refer to fixed insurance products, never securities or investment products. Insurance and annuity product guarantees are backed by the financial strength and claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company.

Content prepared by AE Wealth Management.